

Josephina Oh

University of Maryland Eastern Shore | PGA Golf Management Major

How has SPORT taught you the importance of goal setting in your life?

Sports have taught me to create goals to become a better player and a more organized person. In sports and in life, people need something to strive for to become better versions of themselves.

When have you used your personal CONFIDENCE that you developed through sport to help you in a situation in school or in life?

Through sports, I have developed confidence in my ability to improve. I know that when I started golfing that I wasn't great. Through countless practices and tournaments, I noticed how far I had come. When I apply for internships, I use confidence gained from sports; although I may not be a natural to start, with hard work I know I can develop my skills.

What do you hope to GAIN during your internship this summer?

Through this internship I wish to gain a plethora of fun and educational golf games that I can use to bring more youth to the game of golf.