Sirena is a rising senior at Longwood University majoring in business administration. She currently plays on the golf team.

Favorite Sports Memory: “My favorite sports memory is winning states with my high school team senior year. Being able to share that win with my teammates was extremely special and rare!”

Favorite Core Value: My favorite of The First Tee Nine Core Values is sportsmanship because it allows for better attitudes amongst everyone. Attitudes are contagious and so it’s extremely important that everyone has positive energy because it creates the best environment possible wherever you go!”
